

September 19, 2007

Bixpo Press Release

Anvil Graphics, LLC announces their new sister company, Anvil Exhibits, LLC.

And then there were two. Anvil Graphics has split off its portable display and exhibit offerings into a separate entity named Anvil Exhibits, LLC. The new branch offers a seemingly endless array of portable and modular displays and exhibit graphics, ranging from banner stands to tension fabric pop-up displays which set-up in seconds.

Anvil Graphics began in 1996, providing creative design and color printing to local, regional, and national companies. Its success has allowed the creation of Anvil Exhibits to better serve the needs of exhibitors. The new entity allows for many new offerings within the business, including: additional design options from top-of-the-line display manufacturers, a greater foothold in the exciting world of trade shows and expositions, and a brand-new web site showcasing a diverse collection of available products.

Owner and art director, Craig McDowall, has a unique management style. His team approach to creative production works well with his first class staff. Each team member uses their experience and talent to contribute an equal share in the creative process. The staff Anvil Exhibits currently includes Elle Justice and Erich Sauer in graphic design and Wendi Garza as Administrative Assistant.

Anvil Exhibits offers the highest quality Lambda Duritrans laminated prints. These are continuous-tone photo quality prints which set new standards in the exhibit industry. They market top-of-the-line display systems and accessories from Laarhoven Design, Nomadic Design, Custom Displays, Ultraform, and other leading companies.

Anvil Exhibits and sister company Anvil Graphics are locally owned, and will provide their services to private, corporate and nonprofit organizations alike for years to come. They invite you to call for an appointment to discuss your individual needs. Both companies are located at the Anvil Graphics office in the Pines Building at 2619 11th Street Road, Suite 21 in Greeley. Contact them both at 970-356-5870 or visit their new and re-designed web sites at anvilexhibits.com and anvilgraphics.com* to find out how they can help you with your portable display, exhibit and creative needs!

*coming oh so soon